U.S. Planes Sink 11 Jap Warships At Manila Bay

26 Additional "Probables" and 205 Aircraft Downed as Americans Hit Back First Time

UNITED STATES PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 21 (AP)—Carrier planes of the Halsey-Mitscher Third Fleet made the United States' first aerial counter-attack of the war on Manila Bay area yesterday.

They destroyed 205 Japanese planes and sank 11 warships and probably sent 26 others to the bottom.

A floating drydock and two barges also probably were wiped out.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz reported collection of the first installment on the huge debt to be exacted from the Japanese in the Northern Philippines in a special communiqué tonight.

This severe damage was inflicted in a strongly defended area despite a big umbrella of planes the Japanese sent to intercept American aircraft from Vice-Admiral Marc A. Mitscher's fleet carrier task force.

Enemy aircraft shot down in aerial dogfights totaled 110 and 95 more were destroyed on historic Clark and Nichols Airfields, Manila.

The shipping was caught at Cavite Naval Base in Manila Bay.

Admiral Nimitz's communiqué reported that this strike by Third Fleet, which includes Admiral Mitscher's aircraft carriers, sank a large destroyer leader, four large oil tankers, one small whale tanker, two large cargo ships, one medium cargo ship and two small cargo ships.

A destroyer, two tankers, one transport, 22 cargo ships, a floating drydock and two barges were probably sunk.

American losses were 15 planes. Battling bitter opposition and strong natural defenses, American Marines edged forward today along the western shore of Peleliu, I.

Less than 3,000 Japanese, out of an original force estimated at more than 10,000, remained to contest the drive to wind up the week-old invasion.

An estimated 7,045 Japanese already had been killed on Peleliu, I. was reported and 600 on nearby Angaur Island, where the mopping up stage had been reached.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist as special coverage with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1944, by Southern Co.)

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Armored forces of the British Second Army have reached the south bank of the Rhine and Nijmegen, where sharp fighting for the bridge over the river is now taking place.

The British Second Army has now established an armored corridor through Holland to Nijmegen in places 15 miles wide. Airborne and armored units are defending it against Nazi counter-attacks.

British forces pushing into Holland from the Eindhoven Canal front are driving 100,000 Germans ahead of them. The total number of prisoners taken by the British Second Army since the invasion of Normandy is 73,000. Polish troops with the Canadian First Army have reached the Scheldt on a six-mile front. Apparently the Germans have evacuated the area around Terveuren, advancing northeast of Eindhoven. The Canadians captured Aarsse almost on the Dutch frontier.

Boulogne is a scene of desolation, reports The Times correspondent, who has reached the town with the Canadian forces now attacking the last enemy resistance pockets. Half the garrison are prisoners and only a few strong points are holding out.

The civilian population had been driven away by the Germans at a few hours' notice and only 200 or 300 civilians were found in the town when shelling ceased. No unprovoked welcome, therefore, awaited the Canadians—only scenes of grim destruction. All roads outside of Boulogne were mined and booby-trapped so that Canadians had to make detours across fields.

The Nazi fortress at Mount Lambers was found to be tenuously held by the Royal Air Force. Hardly a house or shop was undamaged in the main streets, and throughout the town had been transformed into muddy tracks. Every-

Supplies and Men Dropped Over Holland

Air Forces Hammer Nazi Oil Sources

LONDON, Sept. 21 (CP)—In a day of dismal flying weather, Allied air forces hammered hard again at German oil sources and railways, dropped Polish paratroops reinforcements to the Allied Airborne Army in Holland and carried another load of supplies to the forces already landed.

The German air force threw some of its carefully hoarded fighters against them in the bitterly-contested Nijmegen area. United States Eighth Air Force fighters shot down 20 while losing four of their aircraft. More than 400 American heavy bombers, escorted by more than 600 fighters, raked the synthetic oil plant at Ludwigshafen and the rail feeder cities of Mainz and Coblenz along the Rhine River. Three bombers were lost.

Squadrons of the air defense of Great Britain Command joined in support of the airborne operations, bringing to more than 12,000 the number of sorties flown since Friday night in support of the huge operation which dropped an army behind the German lines in Holland.

French-based American mediums, bombing just ahead of the United States First Army, which is 15 miles from Trier, Gerolstein, 30 miles to the north, and Ponsfeld, ten miles east of Gerolstein. The Germans have been moving troops and supplies through the past week from Trier to the north.

From Italy hundreds of United States heavy bombers hit Debrecen and Bekescsaba rail yards in Eastern Hungary, bridges over the Upper Tisza River at Etkore and Tiszafured on by-pass lines from Budapest to the Transylvanian front and also a bridge over the Danube at Baja, 80 miles south of Budapest.

Another formation totaling up to 500 bombers Nov Sad rail bridge over the Danube in Yugoslavia, 40 miles northwest of Belgrade, and fighters made a low-level bombing raid on Onjlek railway yards in Yugoslavia due south of Budapest.

Lot of Germans Will Be Shot

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—State Secretary Hull, tersely pointing up one aspect of a hard peace for Nazi Germany, said today that a lot of Germans are going to be shot when the war is over.

Presumably his No. 1 candidate for a firing squad is Hitler. At a news conference only a few days ago he said the Führer's name was certainly the foremost on the list of war criminals and that the names of the men around Hitler—evidently including Goering, Himmler and Goebbels—also are listed.

Mr. Hull took up the subject of German war criminals briefly at a news conference.

Not Overthrown

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 21 (AP)—The secretary to President Getulio Vargas laughed today when he was informed that a pro-Axis newspaper in Buenos Aires had reported a Berlin broadcast that Vargas had been overthrown.

A foreign office official commented: "How silly."

Flays Argentina

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Drawing a distinction between the people of Argentina and their Government, State Secretary Hull today called the Government of President Edelmiro Farrell a Fascist regime. Mr. Hull declared at a news conference that he had not referred to the democratic people of Argentina in any of his condemnations of the regime in control.

NO MORE CAKE

LONDON, Sept. 21 (CP)—German adults will get no cake or sweets and less beer under new decrees published today. Goebbels' Das Reich announced that sweets will be distributed only occasionally and only to children, that barley will be increasingly used for bread, and that there will be "certain changes" in meat and fat supplies.

Aid for Italy and for German Jews Probable

MONTREAL, Sept. 21 (CP)—United States proposals to extend the aid of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration to certain Jewish refugee nationals of enemy countries and to Italians were near adoption when the U.N.R.R.A. council ended today's sittings.

This was disclosed at a press conference tonight by Dean Acheson, head of the American delegation. The proposals in brief:

1. To authorize the administration to take care of or repatriate United Nations nationals or any other persons who have been obliged to leave their countries or places of origin or former residence by reason of deportation or by action of the enemy because of religion, race or activities in favor of the United Nations.

2. To authorize the administration to spend up to $500,000 on needy Italians for medical care, the care of children and pregnant women and the restoration of displaced persons.

The first proposal is aimed particularly at bringing within the scope of U.N.R.R.A.'s aid those German adults who have been forced to become refugees, and Mr. Acheson said 35 per cent of them were Jews. Without this amendment, U.N.R.R.A. would be unable to assist refugees who happened to be technically nationals of enemy countries.

This goes a considerable distance in meeting agitation which has been advanced here by Jewish societies, but has nothing to do with the proposals for the resettlement of Palestine and creation of a Jewish nation.

The second proposal brought an "extraordinary" volume of support from countries which were victims of Mussolini's "stab in the back," including France and Ethiopia, Mr. Acheson said.

It was expressly understood in the discussions that this was not to be a precedent for extending similar aid to Germany.

The Italian resolution was held over until tomorrow, pending the provision of certain information to the Norwegian delegation, which feared the assistance to Italians might reduce supplies available to United Nations countries.

The resolution on aid to the refugee nations of enemy countries also went over for later consideration so that delegations might give it further study. Russia did not take part in either discussion, but presumably is one of those countries desiring time to study the matter.

Rimini Falls to Greeks

Canadians Only Two Miles From Port

ROME, Sept. 21 (CP)—Greek troops of the Eighth Army plunged into the port of Rimini today, tracking the Adriatic anchor of the German Gothic Line, a field dispatch from an Associated Press war correspondent, Lynn Heinrich, said tonight.

Sledding through a drizzling rain, the Greeks swept the Germans out of the once-beautiful city and hoisted their flag over the main post-office, the dispatch said.

The German position in Rimini, gateway to the Po Valley, was made untenable by the speedy flanking of Canadian troops to the west of the city and by a heavy assault from the air.

Coinciding with this victory on the Adriatic coast, American forces punched a deep wedge into the heart of the enemy's defenses north of Florence.

Waves of British planes defied low-hanging clouds to sweep in and hammer Nazi gun emplacements and other fortifications in the path of British and Canadian troops.

A German radio commentator said Allied use of planes and other battle equipment in the Rimini sector "reached an unprecedented climax in Italy... literally resembling an orgy."

The long-awaited cracking of the enemy's defenses at the eastern end of the Gothic Line appeared near. Canadians, thrusting northwestward, broke through carefully prepared Nazi positions southwest of Rimini and stormed to San Lorenzo, less than two miles from the port.

British troops beat off fierce Nazi counter-attacks at Certano on the Canadians' left and reached San Marino, chief city of the little republic of the same name.

Canadians in GRIM 24-HOUR BATTLE

WITH THE CANADIANS ON THE ADRIATIC FRONT, Sept. 21 (CP)—On the battlefield north of Rimini airport for 24 hours on Monday, Ontario, Quebec and Maritime infantrymen fought a close combat struggle with Germans who struggled fanatically from ditch to ditch.

Castren Is New Finnish Premier

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 21 (CP)—Erich Castren, former president of the Supreme Court, became Premier of Finland today as President Gustaf Mannerheim reshuffled the cabinet because of the illness of Hantti Hackzell, former Premier.

Most of Hackzell's cabinet was retained. Eero Vuori, president of the Central Federation of Trade Unions, was appointed deputy minister of communications and public works. Karl A. Fagerholm was made Minister of State Affairs.

WANTS RECOGNITION

ROME, Sept. 21 (AP)—Benedetto Croce today demanded that Italy be recognized as a full-fledged ally of the United Nations with a guarantee that her prewar frontiers be restored and revision of armistice terms which he asserted "are preventing the Italian Government from functioning efficiently."

Canadian Ship Flagship U.S. Admiral

HISTORICALLY unique for the Royal Canadian Navy was the occasion on which Rear Admiral T. E. Chandler, U.S.N., made a Canadian warship, H.M.C.S. Prince Henry, his flagship when he commanded the task assault group on the islands of Levant and Port-Croix during the invasion of southern France. It was the first time a Canadian, or a British warship had acted as flagship for an American admiral. Flanked by Lieut. W. L. Edgington, left, and Lieut.-Cmdr. G. M. Pretag, Rear Admiral Chandler looks out from the bridge of the Prince Henry.

Russians Only 17 Miles From Pre-War Hungary

LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian Army drove to within 17 miles of the prewar Hungarian border today at a point only 138 miles southeast of Budapest, capital of the big Axis satellite.

Sweeping through 100 towns and villages in Western Romania on a 50-mile front, the Red Army had reached the Hungarian plains in a downhill push to knock out Hungary.

Simultaneously other powerful Soviet forces in the north under Marshal Leonid A. Govorov sped westward in a mile-an-hour advance on Tallinn, Estonian capital, and seized Kadrina, 45 miles to the east.

The Leningrad troops under Marshal Govorov overran more than 300 towns and villages during the day, and front dispatches said the German retreat had become a rout.

Govorov's northern wing, pushing on Tallinn from the east, now has linked up with the southern wing advancing from the Tartu sector, the communiqué said, and the Germans have been cleared out of the 600-square-mile isthmus between Lake Peipus and the Gulf of Finland.

In Southern Poland other Soviet troops extended their holdings near the Czech frontier, capturing a number of localities including...

To Shoot Rome's Chief of Police

ROME, Sept. 21 (AP)—Ettore Cursi, Rome's police chief during four months of German occupation, was sentenced to death tonight.

He will be shot in the back. Roberto Occhetto, Cursi's co-defendant and secretary, was condemned to 20 years' imprisonment for collaboration with the Germans.

Cursi was accused of turning over to the Germans 50 hostages for execution, seizing Italian citizens for labor battalions, violating the Vatican's extra-territoriality at St. Paul's Church and authorizing his secretary and others to attend a German school for sabotage.

Bombers Hit Bases Off Morotai Island

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Sept. 21 (Friday) (AP)—More than 100 Allied planes pressed punishing raids against a flank base to recently-invaded Morotai Island, while patrol-torpedo boats smashed what may have been an abortive attempt to reinforce the besieged Japanese garrison on the island, headquarters reported today.

A total of 215 tons of bombs were unloaded Monday on Halimabera, Ceram and Netherlands Celebes by carrier-based and land-based aircraft.

That night patrol boats intercepted and sank a 1,000-ton vessel loaded with fully equipped troops in North Morotai Strait.

Celebes was hit with 155 tons of bombs. Fuel dumps were exploded and three coastal vessels sunk.

Mannstein Arrested

NEW-YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—The United States Office of War Information, distributed today a Stockholm report that Field Marshal Fritz Eric von Mannstein, former German commander on the Eastern Front, had been arrested in Germany on orders of Heinrich Himmler. O.W.I. said the report was published in the newspaper Stockholm Tidningen and related that Gustav Noke, Minister of War in the old Weimar Republic, had been held.

AWARDED MEDAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Brig-Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., today was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor posthumously "for gallantry and integrity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty" on "D" Day.

The medal was presented to his widow by War Secretary Simon during a ceremony attended by members of the family and officials of both the American and British armies. Roosevelt died in Normandy of a heart attack July 12.

The allowance for operations against Japan will range from seven shillings (about $1.54) a week for privates to £3 17 shillings weekly for top ranking officers.

SPECIAL CAMPAIGN PAY FOR BRITONS

LONDON, Sept. 21 (CP)—The British Government, disclosing plans for the interim between Germany's defeat and the fall of Japan, announced tonight that it would give special campaign pay for Britons serving in the Asiatic theatre.

The allowance for operations against Japan will range from seven shillings (about $1.54) a week for privates to £3 17 shillings weekly for top ranking officers.

British Tanks Get Across Bridge to Save Sky Troops

Airborne Soldiers in Brilliant Stroke Seize Vital Link—Race Deep in Holland

LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP)—American airborne troops in a brilliant stroke seized the vital Lower Rhine bridge at Nijmegen intact today, and British tanks raced over it and deep into Holland through enemy defenses guarding German industrial might in the Ruhr Valley.

The Berlin radio said British troops fought on eight miles north to a junction with British airborne forces at Arnhem, and the German Transocean Agency said the city was in flames.

As American parachute troops and gliderborne infantry dashed out on the bridge and jerked loose the enemy's demolition charges, the British Second Army attacked simultaneously from the south, pouring out of shell-torn Nijmegen against the German defenders.

How the Americans got across to the north bank of the Waal Rhine to accomplish this daring feat was not immediately learned at Supreme Headquarters.

The crossing occurred some time Wednesday, and when British guns on the other side signaled the attack they dashed from hiding.

Now the battle has swung toward Arnhem, eight miles north, where the British Second Army hopes to come to the relief of hard-pressed airborne units, which are believed holding a bridge across the Neder Rhine, a second formidable water-course in the Rhine Delta.

If that crossing is made secure they will have only the IJssel River to ford before they are out on Germany's northern plains north of the reputed Siegfried Line terminal at Kleve. Arnhem is 15 miles northwest of Kleve.

The great bridge at Nijmegen—less of which is turning the Germans' northern flank—rises 600 feet above the Waal Rhine, which is broad, deep and swift, with high banks that would pose a tough problem for army engineers and delay the Allied campaign for days.

Twister Rips East Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP)—Cutting a path of destruction a quarter-mile wide, a twister ripped through the rural Renfrew district 50 miles west of here late today, demolishing a number of barns and other farm buildings, carrying debris more than a mile through the air and causing thousands of dollars damage.

There were no reports of injuries, although some livestock were said to have been killed.

Tonight, the Quebec villages of Shawville and Quyon, struck when the cyclone-like storm swept across the Ottawa River, were without electricity and scores of trees and small buildings were down.

At Shawville, the storm broke every window in the Pontiac Community Hospital and tore off part of the roof. None of the 18 patients was injured, although all were "badly scared." The winds damaged motor cars in the streets and narrowly missed crowds at the Fair Grounds who said they saw parts of buildings and trees hurtled through the air as the storm swept over.

In Ontario, the twister lopped trees and telegraph poles on the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks about a mile south of Haley's station and delayed the Pembroke "local" about 25 minutes.

6,000 Nazis Are Prisoners In Boulogne

WITH THE CANADIAN FIRST ARMY, Sept. 21 (CP)—Polish forces of the Canadian First Army tonight continued their mop-up of the area south of the Scheldt Estuary around Terveuren, 37 miles northwest of Arnhem, and for several miles east of this point, 15 miles from the North Sea. They have captured nearly 1,200 prisoners during the last two days.

The Polish troops still are fighting in the town of Terveuren and at the same time Canadian infantry 105 miles southwest are battling stubbornly-resisting strongpoints in the Boulogne area.

Reports to Allied supreme headquarters said Terveuren had been cleared of the enemy except for a single strongpoint.

The battle of Boulogne is nearing its close with more than 6,000 officers and men of the German garrison of the French Channel port in Canadian hands but the last enemy strongholds to the north and south of the city are holding out, until they are overcome one by one.

Five hundred Germans who had fought since the assault began Sunday in one fortified position on the southwest perimeter gave up today to Canadians armed with heavy machine guns routing out enemy remnants in that part of the broken defense line.

The count of prisoners taken by Lt.-Gen. Gerard's Polish forces during the last 48 hours stood tonight at 26 officers and 1,250 other ranks as the Polish troops moved right up to the Scheldt Estuary in Holland between Terveuren and the area of Kloosterzande, ten miles due east.

Canadian infantry and armored forces moving up into Holland west of the Polish forces reached the town of Hook about two miles southwest of Terveuren, following their swing around the eastern curve of the Leopold Canal, which German paratroopers are defending.

Extra Pay for Britons For Service in Pacific

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP)—It was understood here tonight that Canada may announce within 10 days what she intends to do for her servicemen in the way of enlisting them for Pacific service, providing Asiatic campaign pay and partial demobilization. Meantime, official circles were silent.

It was reliably learned here that Canada's definite offers of air and naval aid in the Pacific were considered at the Quebec conference and scaled down somewhat. The Dominion's general offer of military aid was also stipulated and speculation is that a corps or three or less divisions was set as her contribution.

The Government has established two classes of discharges. Class "A" releases will be determined by age and length of service—two months' service being equivalent to one year of age. Men 30 and over will be given priority for discharge in the "A" group.

Class "B" discharges will be for men needed in reconstruction, mainly housebuilding. They will be released out of turn, but the number is expected to be much smaller than from the class "A" group.

It was estimated that 90 per cent of the first 500,000 soldiers to be released from the army will be married men.

The white paper announced pay raises for men with more than three years' service, ranging from seven shillings weekly for men to 21 shillings for lieutenant-commanders, majors and squadron leaders.

Calls on Germans To Regize Danger

LONDON, Sept. 21 (CP)—A German High Command spokesman asked front-line troops by radio today if they were "aware of the gravity of the present situation" and exhorted them to bring the Allied advances to a halt at any cost. "You must view the situation clearly and realize that if the Soviets and their Allies defeat Germany you might as well commit suicide," said the broadcaster.

Empire Reorganization Vision for After War

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 21 (CP).—Brian Penton, editor of The Sydney Daily Telegraph, said today on his return from a tour of Britain, Canada and the United States, that the war to end the Third Reich may prove to be the beginning of a new era.

reorganized system of resources and population.

"Thoughtful people in Britain," he wrote, "admit that an empire centralized in Britain is no longer a long-term practicability. Obviously the mere establishment of another talking shop as a kind of super-empire parliament is not enough.

"To make decentralization really effective we must move out of Britain whole areas of industry and masses of people. If the world fails to find a genuine system of collective security Britain will surely be a battlefield. The very success of the Normandy invasion has given people in Britain some worrying thoughts. If Britain can cross the Channel, so can others.

"I found that Canadians do not automatically reject ideas of closer Empire organization because they have ties with the United States. Just because they have this tremendously powerful neighbor awakening from the long sleep of isolation at their back door, Canadians are inclined to be watchful.

"They have no wish to become a 49th state or be dragged into international embroilment at the heels of any faction which may momentarily control American foreign policy. So they would like to feel themselves part of a strong, effective, co-operative British Commonwealth.

"The big question is to reorganize ourselves, and create such an organization from the scattered material of the Empire. The new phase in our history demands carefully planned redistribution of plants and population. Into such a plan the Canadians would enter enthusiastically."

out of formation after dropping its glider tow.

Mr. Bruce left his office on the afternoon of September 19 and the flight was made yesterday.

General news editor in C.P.'s head office at Toronto, Mr. Bruce left that position temporarily in March this year to become London superintendent.

Mr. Bruce and his three children live in Toronto.

Should Make Further Efforts for Fireboat

After seeing a fireboat recently acquired by Vancouver City Council for use in Burrard Inlet, Alderman John Worthington believes that Victoria should make further efforts to obtain a similar fireboat here.

In Vancouver on his way home from the recent convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at Nelson, Alderman Worthington saw a demonstration of the boat at a ceremony in which Mayor J. W. Cornett accepted it from Hon. Ian MacKenzie, Minister of Pensions and National Health.

The boat pumped eight streams of water at one time, and having a draft of only 30 inches, could move in close to shore.

Alderman Worthington recalled that Mayor Andrew McGavin, had tried some months ago to obtain a fireboat for protection of Victoria Harbor, but was turned down by Brig. Alex Ross, Civil Defence director at Ottawa.

Practical difficulties in the application of the principles of the Senate resolution are seen in certain informed quarters because of the tendencies of Governments to control the news agencies in certain countries and use them for the purpose of influencing public opinion throughout the world.

Unless a clear distinction can be drawn between the handling of news and governmental propaganda some authorities entertain grave doubts as to whether an international pact guaranteeing interchange of news could be secured.

Awards to Airmen

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP).—Air Force Headquarters announced tonight ten awards — one Distinguished Service Order, one Member of the Order of the British Empire and three Distinguished Flying Crosses — to members of the R.C.A.F. serving overseas.

The recipients: D.S.O.—P.L. W. L. Foote, Edmonton.

O.B.E. (Military Division)—W.D. G. Browlee, Woodbridge, Ont. D.P.C.—P.L. F. E. Emery, of (R.R. No. 1), Enderby, B.C.; P.L. K. M. Eynon, Leslie, Sask.; P.L. B. K. McDonald, Stranraer, Sask.

Foote received the D.S.O. for courage and skill when his aircraft was attacked and seriously damaged by an enemy fighter. Foote manoeuvred the aircraft so skillfully that his gunner was able to engage and destroy the fighter. They then completed their mission.

The D.F.C. went to McDonald after he flew his aircraft over his target and back home in spite of the fact that the starboard fin, rudder, elevator and tailplane were shot away.

Press Bureau Head Missing

LONDON, Sept. 21 (CP).—Charles Bruce, London superintendent of The Canadian Press, is overdue aboard a plane carrying reinforcements to airborne troops operating in the Netherlands. It was disclosed tonight.

Mr. Bruce, 38, was on the flight as a war correspondent to report on the aerial supply trains which have been operating out of Britain to back up the airborne forces already landed.

Also on the overdue aircraft is Edmund Townsend, war correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph.

Information here was that the British aircraft was due to land at its base at 7 p.m. yesterday. The plane was last reported as being about to land on Dutch territory. It did not appear to be in distress, but had been heavy in the air.

The plane was said to have taken

Commons Speaker Opens Fall Fair

Hon. J. A. Glen, Speaker of the House of Commons, opened the annual Fall Fair of the Ladysmith Agricultural Society on Wednesday evening before a throng of interested spectators from the town and adjoining districts. The fair closed last night.

Accompanied by R. W. Mayhew, M.P., Mr. Glen complimented the exhibitors and urged them to carry on their fine work. Mr. Mayhew spoke briefly on island farm production and congratulated all the competitors who had worked so hard to make the show a success.

G. Hamilton Harman led the Victoria Chamber of Commerce delegation of agriculture, lauded Ladysmith district poultry production.

The handsome array of trophies for fruits, vegetables, bottled goods, cakes and bread from farm kitchens, and for the display of junior handicrafts, were warmly competed for. Presentations were made possible by the following: Forward Cup for flowers, T. Honeyman; W. Wilson Cup for dahlias, W. Wilson; Bank of Commerce Cup for fruits and vegetables, H. Hartley; Walker Cup for most points open to seniors, T. Honeyman; Bertram Cup for most points in Jr. classes, Mrs. M. Tuddenham.

Juvenile Gangs Battle for Girl

QUEBEC, Sept. 21 (CP).—Quebec City police were much too alert for gangs of juveniles who staged pitched battles in the streets of Limolou Ward last night and Tuesday, and tonight formed a cordon across the street, aided by men of the Royal Canadian Navy, to prevent the rival groups from coming to blows. Several youngsters attempted to break through the guard and were arrested while crossing the street. The youngsters, ranging in age from 10 to 15 years, are said to have started the feud when a young girl transferred her affections from the leader of one group to the rival gang leader.

Victorian in Command as the Warspite Shells Brest Port

Written for The Canadian Press by SUB-LIEUT. GORDON WALKER, R.C.N.V.R.

ABOARD H.M.C.S. ASSINIBOINE, Sept. 21 (CP).—For three almost monotonous hours recently the famed British battleship Warspite proved how completely the Allies have dominated the waters around and the sales over French coastal territory still in German hands. She stood off Brest Peninsula and pumped round after round of shells into enemy shore batteries almost without interference.

The destroyer Assiniboine, commanded by Lieut.-Cmdr. Robert Welland, 27, of Victoria, B.C., was the only Canadian ship in a group of five destroyers assigned to screen the big battleship during the operation. Object of the "shoot" was to destroy two bothersome shore batteries—the Lochrist battery, with a range of 35,000 yards, and the St. Mathieu battery, with 26,000 yards range.

Flanked by the Assiniboine and British destroyers Fante, Hotspur, Inconstant and Duncan, the Warspite moved majestically into shelling position, about four miles off the small town of Argenteuil. Then, with the five escorts moving into their screening patrol, Warspite opened fire.

It was a scheduled four-hour shelling, and for all but 25 minutes of that time there was no sign of enemy activity. Allied bomber squadrons and darting fighter planes drones overhead.

The Warspite, directed by spotting aircraft, poured salvo after salvo, in a southeasterly direction. During the operation, approximately 300 one-ton "bricks" screamed toward their invisible target.

The first indication of enemy retaliation came in half an hour before the shoot was completed. The water spouted close by Lefour light-house, but the burst was about two miles short of the Warspite.

A few minutes later and the long, probing, underwater finger of the Assiniboine made contact with some foreign object. Lieut.-Cmdr. Welland, one of the Canadian Navy's leading anti-submarine specialists, didn't waste a second. He cut the Assiniboine in sharply within range of the hidden shore battery, and dropped a pattern of depth charges.

There wasn't time to pursue that effort to a definite conclusion. German shells were still dropping in fitful bursts, still short of the mark when Warspite's mission was completed.

best pictures. Marjorie Griffiths won first prize for pencil drawings.

The large number of local people on hand and visitors from Victoria and Nanaimo pronounced the fair a success. Mayor E. Jamieson of Ladysmith said the quality of produce represented was right up to standard despite the dry season that had been experienced this year.

Telegraph Business Active in Province

Telegraph facilities are being used to the utmost, and business has in no way declined due to easement of the war effort, according to D. L. Howard, assistant manager, Western Lines, C.P.R., Winnipeg, and L. A. Raymond, newly appointed superintendent of the British Columbia district. The officials were here yesterday.

The employment situation was far better now than a year ago, they agreed, with full clerical and messenger staffs on hand. Praise was given the city clerks and messengers employed during the critical labor period. In many cases they were superior to the boys, Mr. Raymond said.

Mr. Howard is checking communications here during his periodical tour, and will visit Nanaimo before returning to Winnipeg.

Joins British Staff

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21 (CP).—Charles J. Woodworth, of Vancouver, a former member of the Vancouver Province staff here, has joined the British Ministry of Information and will be stationed in New Delhi, India.

Son of the late J. S. Woodworth, founder of the C.P.F. Party, Mr. Woodworth was on the staff of the Winnipeg Tribune before coming to Vancouver six years ago.

Would Be Thankful When Conflict Ends

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21 (CP).—British Columbia Canadian Legion executive council at a meeting last night decided that "V" Day plans should be based on the spirit of "thanksgiving rather than jollification."

Celebrations should be avoided because of the many "who have paid the supreme sacrifice." Legion members agreed. All British Columbia Legion branches will be asked to act in this manner.

Start Action to Padlock House

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21 (CP).—Action was begun today to padlock a house on East Hastings Street here which was the scene of the shooting yesterday of Kevin Thompson, of Vancouver, and which a year ago was the scene of a fatal beating dealt Thompson's brother, Francis.

Joe Esposito, tenant in the house, is charged with Kevin's murder. Police are checking land registry records for the name of the owner of the house to whom a notice will be served that his tenant has been convicted for the illegal sale of liquor. Before the building can be legally padlocked, police must prove the owner was aware of the tenant's illegal actions and was negligent in not removing him from the premises.

Favor Home Forces For Pacific Zone

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21 (CP).—The zone council of the Canadian Legion, following the action of other Legion branches across the Dominion, Wednesday night went on record as favoring the use of home defense troops in the Pacific rather than soldiers now in Europe.

"When the war in Europe ends," said a council statement issued by Robert Macneil, executive secretary, "the Legion feels that the men who have been fighting there would be brought back to Canada and that home defense forces now in this country should be sent to the Pacific to participate in the war with the Japanese."

At least two other Legion branches in Eastern Canada and the Prairies recently took similar stands.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 21 (CP).—Dr. Alexander Kosheva, 69, of New York, a Ukrainian composer-conductor, died in hospital here today following a heart attack.

Dr. Kosheva was in Winnipeg directing the Summer Music School in choral training which is sponsored by the Ukrainian National Federation of Canada. He has directed the school activities since 1941.

Attempts Own Life

NANAIMO, Sept. 21 (CP).—Police report that Paul Alec Clausen, convicted today of unlawful possession of explosives, attempted to take his life tonight in his cell here by slashing his wrists. Clausen was removed to hospital and is expected to survive.

Clausen was remanded to the end of the present session after police testified he had been arrested in possession of a fluid ounce of nitro-glycerine, three detonating caps, a pair of gloves and a flashlight in the vicinity of an old wharf near here. Clausen admitted to the court ten previous convictions.

At the Theatres

Love Story of G.I. Joe at Dominion

One of the most enthusiastically acclaimed stage hits ever produced on Broadway, Maxwell Anderson's "The Eve of St. Mark" comes to the screen of the Dominion Theatre today in 20th Century-Fox's starring picture.

The love story of G.I. Joe, the picture featuring Anne Baxter, William Eythe and Michael O'Shea, is being hailed as the greatest emotional experience to come out of this war.

Also featured in the brilliant cast are Vincent Price, Ruth Nelson and Ray Collins, with Stanley Prager, Henry Morgan, Robert Bailey, Joan O'Leary, Toni Favour, George Mathews, John Archer, Murray Alper and Dickie Moore.

"The Eve of St. Mark" was directed by John M. Stahl and produced by William Perleberg. George Seaton wrote the screen play for the film.

'Suspicion' Is Now At the Oak Bay

A striking romance of a charming reprobate and the woman who loved him better than life itself is the theme of the dramatic offering "Suspicion" now at the Oak Bay Theatre, starring Cary Grant and Joan Fontaine.

The film was directed by Alfred Hitchcock, noted for his suspense-building technique on the screen, and is said to be one of the year's most engrossing pictures. The arresting plot turns about the husband's misdeeds and the wife's imaginative suspicions and offers both stars unusual opportunities. Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Nigel Bruce and Dame May Whitty head the featured R.K.O. Radio cast.

Two plays written by Theatre Victor Jory, "Five Who Were Mad" and "Bodies by Fisher," have been produced to New York, and he has also written many songs, of which "Without You" and "Sundown Trail" were the most popular. Jory comes to the Rio Theatre today in "The Unknown Guest," the suspense-filled Monogram drama in which he is featured with Pamela Blake.

PLAZA Crowds attending the Theatre Plaza Theatre last night saw the thrilling frontier picture "The Last of the Mohicans" and had lavish praise for the production. The stellar cast gave a splendid performance and rendered great support to the two stars in the film, Randolph Scott and Binnie Barnes. In the second feature are Laurel and Hardy in the comedy "Beau Hunk."

CAPITOL Jean Heather had theatre hardly finished her dramatic course at the University of Washington when Paramount talent scouts approached her with a contract. The result finds Jean as one of the feminine leads in the studio's tender story of a priest, "Going My Way," with

Tells of Caen's Fall

Sgt. E. A. Paterson, of Victoria, who was wounded in France shortly after "D" Day, is now in Shaughnessy Military Hospital receiving treatment for his injuries. He arrived in Canada aboard the hospital ship Lady Nelson and was admitted to the hospital as a stretcher case. Son of Mrs. K. Liddle, 2776 Burdick Avenue, he was one of a group of British Columbia and Island men to arrive on the coast.

A spokesman for their group, Bdr. John Blenkins, of Quathlami Cove, situated on the West Coast of the Island, said that the French residents of Caen did not know how to accept the Canadians after the taking of their city because they feared German reprisals. Caen was nothing but rubble when the Canadians finally captured the hotly contested town. Bdr. Blenkins said, "But once the French knew that liberation was complete they were overjoyed," he added.

Blenkins was injured by mortar fire when the Canadians launched their break-through attack beyond Caen.

Eisenhower Is Back at Work

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (CP).—Reporting from Paris after his return from Gen. Eisenhower's advanced headquarters, C.B.S. correspondent Merrill Mueller said today the "General has been driving himself to a point where, though his brilliant and tremendous mind could stand the pace, his exceedingly tough physique could not."

"His health deteriorated so much that he was literally instructed not to leave his camp for several days," said Mueller. "He is in tip top form again today, however, and the sparks are flying about getting this thing over with."

Mueller reported Allied armies "are well over a month ahead of schedule."

"So now it is forward to Berlin. And General Ike will go with us as closely behind his armies as possible. His present new camp is probably the last establishment outside enemy territory. Next he will camp on the enemy's home ground and relish it."

Draws Fine for Illegal Fishing

NANAIMO, Sept. 21. — James Demaine, Victoria fisherman, was fined $100 and $2.50 costs in police court here today for fishing for cod with a sunken net. He has a licence to fish for dogfish with a sunken net, but evidence showed that at one set he had taken $105 worth of ling cod and only 60 cents worth of dogfish. Fisheries officials maintained he was fishing commercially for cod with a net.

Drastic Cut in Air Training In Canada; Economy Move

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP)—The Commonwealth's $1,500,000,000 Air Training Plan, which made Canada "The Airdrome of Democracy" and shadowed enemy skies with an ever-darkening cloud of air power, will be drastically curtailed in a programme of command fusions, organizational amalgamations and re-allocations announced today.

There is a big cut in the budget of the plan which last May graduated 100,000 air crew men.

Here, briefly, is the programme: No. 1 Training Command comprising the old No. 2 Command with headquarters at Winnipeg and No. 4 Training Command with headquarters at Calgary.

At an unspecified later date No. 1 Training Command with headquarters at Toronto and No. 3 Training Command with headquarters at Montreal will fuse with Eastern Air Command.

The Air Council is being reduced from 11 to 7 members, with these members retiring:

Terrence Sheard, air member for supply; Air Vice-Marshal Alan Ferrier, of Ottawa, air member for aero-nautical engineering; Air Vice-Marshal K. G. Nairn, air member for accounts and finance, and Air Vice-Marshal R. R. Collard, of Winnipeg, air member for construction and engineering.

The work of their divisions, which by reason of the fusion programme will have lessened responsibility, will be portioned out to the remaining Air Council members.

No mention was made of Western Air Command or the newly-created Northwest Air Command—both of which were created in 1943.

Importance with the switch of Canadian activity to the Pacific at the conclusion of the war against Germany. It was assumed they would continue as separate operational commands until Japan is defeated.

By the same reasoning, E.A.C., which has been responsible for convoy escort and anti-submarine work in the Atlantic will lose its importance as an operational centre when Germany capitulates, the Air Force statement didn't indicate who would get the new training command posts when a reshuffle of officers is made.

One of the questions unanswered is whether or not the R.C.A.F. will resume recruiting this fall. In June, the Air Force announced a surplus of trained men and trainees and a moratorium of recruiting until October 1.

If recruiting does start October 1 it will be on a reduced scale and will be based on even higher physical and educational standards.

KEEP ON BUILDING
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21 (CP)—Pacific Coast shipbuilding will be "held to its full capacity at least until the mid-summer of 1945" as the war with Germany is concluded and fighting against Japan intensified, Vice-Admiral John W. Green, the West Coast's co-ordinator of naval logistics, predicted today.

ABOARD A MOTOR GUNBOAT OFF THE ITALIAN COAST, Sept. 21 (CP)—Hour after hour they kept sweeping the darkness with their glasses and hour after hour nothing happened. The moon was bright behind us and, as the skipper said, an E-boat could have laid mine within a mile of us and got away with it. It was that quiet of night.

Inshore the artillery was in full voice, but from these few miles out you could know it only by the flashes that freckled the horizon. The anti-aircraft gunners had picked off one of the German planes on its nightly bombing run and the glow of its death fire was the one steady light among the many.

The muffled motors carried the gunboat on up the coast, up behind the German lines to lie off a certain point and fulfill the drab pursuit of a watchdog ready to jump any E-boat that might come out to sweep a channel so the destroyers could come in by day and shell the enemy from the sea. The gunboat kept watch to see that the sweepers' work was not undone.

The port was in darkness. A few miles south along that horizon erupting with transient light the Canadians were dug in. Most of the flashes came from their guns. It was their anti-aircraft fire that had brought down the plane.

Aboard the gunboat, Lt.-Comdr. J. D. Maitland of Vancouver, caught snatches of sleep on the floor of the bridge. He'd warned us this would be a night without action. After 20 months in the Mediterranean,

The War Today

By KIRK L. SIMPSON
A.P. War Analyst

Naval forces on all fronts in Europe are reeling under synchronized Russian-Airied blows, but it is around the Arnhem gateway in Holland to the vulnerable German coast, that the most immediate crisis for Germany is apparent.

Official Allied reports still lagged hours behind front-line advances. There were many intimations, however, that the gap between airborne advance elements and British tank forces surging across the Rhine bridge had been closed, and that the eastern arm of the Rhine might also have been crossed at Arnhem.

There was no question that Field Marshal Montgomery was already shutting heavy ground forces across the all important Nijmegen bridge, intent not only of quick relief for the advance airborne troops enemy besieged at or near Arnhem, but also on widening his front north of the Rhine as quickly as possible. It seemed a dangerously narrow salient so far as it could be traced on the map, and Allied headquarters emphasized that Montgomery had lost no time in expanding its base line south of the Waal Rhine and the Meuse to guard against possible Nazi flanking thrusts.

German failure to hold or destroy the Nijmegen bridge has greatly intensified the triple-threat nature of the Allied left flank surprise operations. It compels a dispersion of enemy reserves being rushed to bolster the line from other of less dangerous fronts under American pressure to the south.

Name Members of New Board To Study North Development

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP)—Composition of the newly-created board of governors of the Arctic Institute of North America was announced today by Dr. H. L. Kenney, assistant undersecretary of state for external affairs, who is acting as interim chairman. Arrangements for establishment of the board were made at an adjourned meeting of the Arctic Council.

Four of the governors have been named for three years, four for two years, and four for one year so a third of the board will be named each year.

Maj. R. F. Flint and Dr. L. M. Gould, both of the National Research Council of the United States, Arctic, Desert and Tropic Information Centre, New York; Dr. E. M. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth College, Hanover N.H.; Dr. H. L. Kenney, Ottawa.

Two years: Philip Chester, general manager, Hudson's Bay Company, Ltd., Winnipeg; G. R. Parkin, Sun Life Assurance Company, Montreal; Dr. Philip S. Smith, Alaska Division, United States Geological Survey, Washington; Dr. V. Stefansson, Arctic explorer, New York.

One year: Dr. Charles Camsell, deputy minister of mines and resources, commissioner of Northwest Territories, Ottawa; Dr. H. B. Collins, Jr., acting director, ethnographic board, Smithsonian Institution, Washington; Dr. Robert Newton, president of University of Alberta, Edmonton; Walter S. Rogers, director of the Institute of Current World Affairs, New York.

North America has been slow in its study of the Arctic. Following the death of Capt. Robert Falcon Scott, of the Royal Navy, after he had found the South Pole in 1912, British people provided a fund administered by Cambridge University which financed scientists who spent years in the North before the war.

In the 1930's Russia established the U.S.S.R. Arctic Institute which has done valuable research work.

The North American Institute will co-operate with these bodies after the war and send parties of scientists possibly by air, into the Arctic to make a general research into the natural conditions of the North.

This will include a study of the shifting of the North Magnetic Pole now somewhere in the locality of Boothia Peninsula, study of the great glaciers of Alaska, Ellesmere Island and Greenland, studies of the Northern Lights and other electrical phenomena.

They also will study possibilities for the development of mineral resources, food supplies and the lives of the native Eskimos. Most of the expeditions will be financed from private sources.

For the present the headquarters of the North American Arctic Institute will be located in Montreal.

TO BACK ROOSEVELT
NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (CP)—Vice-President Wallace, defeated for re-election at the Democratic National convention, declared tonight that the United States must go forward "in the light of Liberalism" and that he would vote for President's Roosevelt's re-election.

Mr. Wallace's address his first of the election campaign, was delivered during a Roosevelt rally in Madison Square Garden.

And don't you think I don't! I hate and despise this warm weather . . . and I've had to leave the Chief Gnome in charge up north and he's full of mischief as a monkey! Likely the December icicles will be defeated when I get back—and the hind wheels put on the beforebuds of the red wagons.

Miss A. Proudfoot Weds Naval Officer

Interesting family traditions were carried out at the double ring ceremony, solemnized at St. Barnabas Church, at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday evening, when the lovely daughter of an army officer of the last war became the bride of a naval officer of this war, navigator of the Victoria-built frigate Swansea, which was responsible for sinking two enemy submarines.

The bride wore a white tulle wedding veil, and a diamond pendant, the gift of the bridegroom's mother, the bride chose a white satin gown, fitted bodice, over full skirt forming a long train, with pointed sleeves, and a sweetheart neckline, and carried a bouquet of gardenias, swainsons and forget-me-nots for the service, conducted by Canon N. E. Smith, when Agnes Elizabeth, only daughter of Capt. and Mrs. D. J. Proudfoot, and Lieut. John Burton Anderson, R.C.N.V.R., son of Mrs. J. B. Anderson, Gordon Head, and the late Mr. Anderson, Drumheller, Alta., were united in matrimony.

The bride was escorted to the chancel steps by her father, who gave her in marriage. The church had been charmingly decorated by friends, and the altar was banked with white gladioli. Mr. Tom H. Myers supplied the organ music.

The bridesmaid, Miss Joan Thompson, wore white satin, with fitted bodice, over a full skirt, and her lace hair bandeau was held in place by clusters of flowers. White roses and carnations composed her bouquet. Lieut. E. U. Anderson, R.C.N.V.R., brother of the groom, was groomsmen, and ushers were the bride's brother, James Proudfoot, and David Sloan.

At the reception following the service, at the home of the bride's parents, 1561 Despard Avenue, the bride cut the three-tier wedding cake with her father's sword, used in France when Capt. Proudfoot was with the Cameronians, and also used at his own wedding. Mr. T. P. Emerson proposed the toast to the bride, and Lieut. E. U. Anderson the toast to the bridesmaid.

Mrs. Edward Harris, aunt of the bridegroom, in place of his mother, owing to ill-health, assisted Capt.

Softly Draped and Casual—and Smart!

Typical of the new soft draping in casual fashions is this wool dress by Eisenberg, Chicago. The fabric is a soft wool crepe in jewel colors, and the only trimming the self ruffles that edge the neckline and wrists. The belt is a genuine reptile skin in deep brown. A charming dress for all hours of the day and symbolic of the flattering "occasion" dress which this house features.

and Mrs. Proudfoot and the bride and groom in receiving their guests.

For a honeymoon to an unannounced destination the bride traveled in a three-piece suit, with brown accessories, and brown half hat. A graduate of 1943 Class of University of British Columbia, the bride is affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority.

About 1830, a favorite pianoforte composition was the "Snuffbox Waltz."

Lady Tweedsmuir Expresses Thanks

Lady Tweedsmuir has sent the following letter of thanks to Major J. S. Matthews, city architect, Vancouver, from Elmsfield Manor, Oxford, England.

"A lovely piece of cheese has arrived which we all ate with the greatest delight. My daughter and her husband were here, and we all blessed you for your kindness and generosity."

"I expect you are rejoicing, as we are, about this wonderful news from Normandy."

"I wonder if I would interest you to read extracts I give below of a letter I have had from someone in England."

"I have visited two aerodromes this week where we supplied our Canadian seeds and they had a wonderful display of vegetables and the gardens were supplying the whole camp."

"One of the many families we were fitting up with clothes and toys has been badly blitzed. The mother is still on the danger list from crushing, and the two children have their legs broken, and painting books will be a great joy to them."

"The clothes and toys have been sent to me from different people in Canada, as well as the seeds, and as a great part of everything has been sent from British Columbia, I feel you may like to see how deep are the roots of Canada in England, and how grateful we all are for the wonderful help you have all given us—Yours sincerely, Susan Tweedsmuir."

Ald. John A. Worthington and Mrs. Worthington have returned to their home in Victoria. Alderman Worthington attended the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention in Nelson while Mrs. Worthington visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lendrum, at Trail where her husband joined her before returning here.

Mrs. Sidney Thomas, 2506 Prior Street, entertained at tea Wednesday afternoon in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Thomas, Vancouver, B.C. Mrs. Harold B. McDonald presided at the table and guests were Mrs. Fred Thomas and baby, Paul, Mrs. George Wood and Johnny, Mrs. Victor Sandford, Mrs. Davy Miller, Mrs. James Ormond, Mrs. Richard Hudson and Mrs. William Woodward.

Dr. J. W. Sipprell has returned to his home in Victoria after six weeks spent in the Okanagan, where he spoke to clubs in Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon. The fruit situation, according to Dr. Sipprell, in Southern Okanagan has been very critical. Twenty-tons of peaches were thrown on the dump every day at Osoyoos, being too ripe for shipment. Apple crop in the Okanagan, thought to be the best for years, is in desperate need of apple pickers, he said.

A. Dowell introduced visiting Rotarians at a luncheon meeting held Thursday at the Empress Hotel, including John P. Meynink, Newberg, Harry Whitman, Wenatchee, H. G. Hofer, Yakima; O. Woodman, Vancouver; Floris Nagelvoort, Seattle; H. Smith, Courtenay; Jarvis Newberry, Vancouver; Herbert E. Smith, Seattle; Sam Randall, Vancouver; W. Park, Vancouver; Sid Barker, Vancouver; Eddie Zetterman, New Westminster; Dave Dawson, Vancouver; J. H. Norton, Moncton; Fred Averill, Seattle.

The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. T. Strong was christened on Sunday in St. John's Church by Rev. G. Biddle. The baby wore a brocade satin dress and bonnet and received the names Judith Patricia. The godparents were her aunt, Mrs. A. Gray; her uncle, A. B. Art Strong, R.C.N.V.R., and Miss Dorothy Collins. After the services Mr. and Mrs. Strong entertained at tea at their home, 131 Ladysmith Street. Among the invited guests were the baby's great-grandmother, Mrs. L. Jenner; her grandparents, Mrs. A. Kater, and Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Strong; also Mr. and Mrs. A. Gray and Dorothy and Elizabeth, Mrs. C. Clarke and Denise, Miss D. Collins, Miss M. Bastedo, Mrs. L. Stilling, Mrs. N. Gale, Mrs. L. Wilby, Mrs. P. Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. R. Thaine, Mr. A. Strong and Mr. J. Strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tredaway, who have been residents of Grosvenor, Alta., for the past 24 years, will shortly arrive here to make their future home. Born in Somerset, England, Mr. Tredaway came to Canada in 1908, after serving in the South African War with the 7th Dragoon Guards. Mr. and Mrs. Tredaway were married in 1920 and have two daughters. Prior to their departure Mr. and Mrs. Tredaway were honored at a reception, when they were presented with a purse of gold, and a bouquet by friends and neighbors from many parts of the district. Mr. Tredaway was a former president of the Board of Trade, also secretary of the village and of the school district. He has served on the postwar reconstruction committee of the Union of Alberta Municipalities, and has been a member of the Calgary diocese executive committee of the Anglican Church.

McKenzie-Peden Nuptials Held

Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiated at the wedding of Helen Marie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Peden, 1154 McClure Street, and Mr. Hugh McKenzie, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. David McKenzie, 2821 Shelbourne Street, which took place in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Thursday evening, Mr. C. C. Warren was at the organ and Mrs. Marion Mitchell sang "All Joy Be Thine."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a full-skirted gown of white embossed satin with a low-waisted fitted bodice having long-pointed sleeves and a sweetheart neck. Her embroidered chapel veil fell from a Mary Stuart headpiece and her only ornament was a string of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink rosebuds and white gladioli.

Picture frocks of violet taffeta with full skirts and puff sleeves were worn by the bridal attendants, Miss Patricia Holden and Mrs. C. H. Miller. Their lace-trimmed shepherdess hats matched the frocks, and they carried arm bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums. Mr. Richard Mulhearn was groomsmen and acting as ushers were the bride's brother, Mr. Stanley Peden, and Mr. Hugh Peden.

The reception was held at the Uplands Golf Club, where the young couple welcomed their friends standing before an arch entwined with flowers. Surmounting the three-tier cake was a small gold horseshoe and lovebird, which had adorned the cake of the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie will make their home at 968 Gorge Road, after the honeymoon, for which the bride chose a three-piece Lauribourne suit, with brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Teachers Learn Lunch Programme

Students at Victoria Normal School are drinking cocon with their carried lunch.

Teachers did the shopping, worked out the cost of the dish, did the cooking, serving and clearing up. Next week new committees will be appointed and a different dish will be served. This is part of a plan to give new teachers a practical training which will equip them to organize school lunch programmes when they take teaching positions next fall.

It has been found, through surveys, that lunches carried to school often lack one or more of the four food groups which should be included in a well-balanced meal. Because of this, a supplement served at the school is coming to be considered a necessity. Not only does the school supplement help to balance the lunch from home, but as it is usually hot, it helps to make the carried lunch more appetizing.

In many parts of the province, local organizations have assisted with the serving of a noon supplement at the school. In others, school boards have paid a local woman to serve the hot dish, under the supervision of the home economics teacher. The programme being carried out at the Victoria Normal School this year is an attempt to train teachers going to rural schools how to plan for the serving of a hot noon supplement as an integral part of their regular teaching programme.

ON THE MARCH

Parents with children carrying lunches to school will be interested in a leaflet entitled "The Lunch Box is on the March." This leaflet lists the four groups of foods—milk, fruit or vegetable, whole grain bread, and a protein food such as meat, fish or egg—which should be included in a well-balanced lunch. The leaflet also gives suggestions as to how these can be carried in the box lunch.

Free copies of the leaflet are available on request from the Provincial Board of Health in the Parliament Buildings.

APPLE A DAY

Here's a recipe for apple ice cream that is certain to please six persons, for whom the serving is planned. It requires two cups of grated apples (four medium apples), one-half cup of fruit or fine granulated sugar and a half pint of whipping cream.

Grate the unpeeled apples, and after grating a small amount of apple, measure and sprinkle with part of the sugar to prevent discoloration. Continue grating until two cups of apple are measured. Whip the cream, fold into the apple mixture and freeze.

The same recipe may be used for apple charlotte, but the charlotte requires one and one-half tablespoons of gelatin, soaked in one-quarter cup of cold water dissolved over hot water, folded in with cream. The charlotte should be chilled until firm. It will serve six to eight people.

EGG BEATERS

Tap the egg beater on your hand to loosen every last little bit of egg fluff when you are cooking. Banging it on the bowl's edge knocks out the air you've been working to put in.

Wartime Gardens Bring New Vegetables to One's Table

By LAURA C. PEPPER
Chief, Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture

Many wartime gardeners have experimented this year with some of the less common varieties of vegetables. Those who can't go out and pick them can probably find some or all of them on local markets, where they are waiting to bring added variety and new taste treats to the family table.

Often, unfamiliar foods are passed by because women aren't quite certain how to prepare and serve them. So today the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture gives suggestions and recipes which should put these strangers to the family table among the regulars. Incidentally, if the family is a bit leery about new foods, it is a good idea to introduce a new vegetable among old favorites by way of a vegetable plate.

KOHLRABI

Kohlrabi has been described as a turnip which grows above ground and has leaves sprouting from it like quills from a porcupine. In flavor it is delicate with a hint of both turnip and cabbage. Choose small to medium sized bulbs, untrimmed at the root end, fairly heavy for their size and firm. The leaves are removed and the vegetable peeled thinly. It is then cooked until tender in a small amount of boiling salted water, covered, of course. It is good served with vinegar and hot bacon dripping or with cheese or plain cream sauce.

KOHLRABI AU GRATIN

Remove leaves, wash, peel thinly and cut in half-inch cubes. Cook in a small amount of boiling salted water 20 to 25 minutes. Drain, season with salt, pepper and grated cheese. Four cups raw kohlrabi will make six servings.

EGGPLANT

This is a vegetable which seems to increase in popularity each year. It combines well with other vegetables in casserole dishes. Sliced, dipped in egg and bread crumbs and sautéed in hot fat it adds distinction to a mixed grill or a vegetable plate and teams particularly well with roast lamb. Another good combination is that of cubed eggplant and tomatoes stewed together.

BAKED STUFFED EGGPLANT

1 large eggplant
4 slices bacon, diced
Half medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped celery
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
Salt and pepper

Wash eggplant, remove stem and cut in half, lengthwise. Scoop out centres, leaving shells about half an inch thick. Chop pulp removed from eggplant. Fry bacon, add chopped onion, celery and eggplant and fry together until light brown. Add bread crumbs, salt and pepper and fill eggplant shells. Brush cut surface of eggplant with melted fat, place in a shallow pan and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 deg. F., until shell of eggplant is tender, about 30 minutes.

SUMMER SQUASH

Many varieties of the squash family are known as summer squash. All are delicate in flavor and, irrespective of size, shape and color, they all lend themselves to the same methods of cooking. Because of their high water content, squash are better steamed or baked than boiled. They may then be mashed if desired.

SAUTÉED SUMMER SQUASH

Wash squash and cut in half-inch slices. Peel, unless the skin is very thin and tender. Dip slices of squash in beaten, seasoned egg then in fine bread crumbs. Sauté in a covered pan in a little hot fat, until squash is golden brown and tender, about 10 minutes.

SALSIFY

This vegetable is also known as oyster plant and looks like a very slender parsnip. For best texture and flavor they should be picked while young. Once peeled, salsify, like apples or peaches, discolors quickly and should therefore be dropped at once into cold salted water or water to which a little vinegar has been added.

CREAMED SALSIFY

12 medium salsify roots
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water
1 cup medium cream sauce
Scrape salsify and slice crosswise in half-inch slices. Cook, covered in the boiling salted water until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain and use the cooking water in making the cream sauce. Add cooked salsify to sauce and serve hot. Six servings.

BROCCOLI

Look for bright dark green color when buying broccoli. The buds should be closed or just breaking open. To prepare, wash thoroughly, remove large leaves and woody parts of the stem. If the head is large divide into pieces for serving. Cook broccoli like asparagus, that is, standing upright with the stems in a small amount of boiling salted water, in a covered pan. Cooking time is about 20 minutes. Hollandaise sauce is the de luxe accompaniment, but a Mock Hollandaise or melted butter are recommended as simpler and much easier on the butter ration.

Recipe of The Week

Nothing more delicious for cool fall days than a delicious bowl of hot soup. These recipes are tops in flavor and food value.

CARROT OR TURNIP SOUP

3 to 4 Tablespoons of butter
4 Tablespoons of flour
1 Quart of milk
Salt and pepper to taste
1 Tablespoonful of grated onion
2 Cupfuls of grated carrot or turnip (2 cups)

Melt the butter, blend in the flour and stir until smooth. Add the milk gradually and cook, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Season to taste, add the grated onion and carrot or turnip and cook over hot water or very low heat for 10 to 15 minutes or until the vegetable is tender. Serve garnished with chopped parsley if desired. Five to six servings.

SCOTCH BROTH

Cut lamb shank in several places and cover with cold water; add salt and soak for 1 hour. Heat slowly to boiling point and add 2 tablespoons barley and 2 tablespoons green peas and leave overnight. Remove fat and simmer stock for 3 hours. Add sliced vegetables (carrots, turnip, onion, etc.) and cook till tender. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Some alphabet macaroni added the last 15 minutes makes a nice addition. Yield about 1 quart.

BOUILLON

4 Lbs. shin beef
3 Quarts water
½ Cup each diced turnip, onion, carrot and celery
1 Teaspoon peppercorns
1 Bay leaf
4 Whole cloves
Salt

Wipe the meat and cut in small pieces. Put 2 ½ of the meat in a soup pot and allow to soak in cold water for 1 hour. Sear the remaining meat in a frying pan with the marrow from the marrow bone. Put browned meat and bone in a soup kettle. Heat to boiling point and skim thoroughly. Cook at simmering temperature for 3 hours. Add seasonings and vegetables and cook until the latter are tender. Strain and cool. Remove fat and clear.

TO CLEAR SOUP

Remove fat from cold stock. Put the stock to be cleared in a saucepan. Allow the white and shell of 1 egg for a quart of stock. Beat the white slightly and add 2 teaspoons cold water for each egg; crush shell and add to stock. Place on range and stir constantly until boiling point is reached. Boil 2 minutes. Take the stock from the heat and allow to stand for 20 minutes. Strain through a fine strainer and double thickness of cheesecloth. Seasonings should be added before stock is cleared.

Proteins are essential for rebuilding tissue and for good blood, and there's a danger that they may be skimmed now that garden-fresh fruits and vegetables are so tempting, say the nutrition experts. Make sure that the protein side of the daily diet is not neglected. The experts say that two ounces of a good protein food like meat, fish, eggs or cheese is a daily "must."

Importance of Psychology to Average Citizen Described

Importance of psychology in the classroom and other walks of life was vividly described by Dr. Henrietta Anderson, vice-principal of the Victoria Normal School, to members of the Lions Club in Spencer's dining-room yesterday.

Psychology, described as the science of man's thinking in relation to his way of living, was said to be an all-important factor in schools of the present day. Educational institutions were doing a splendid job along these lines, Dr. Anderson said, and the student of today was getting a far better chance in life than those of the past generation.

The whole school system had been turned upside down, the speaker added, and it was becoming realized that pupils must be made inwardly happy and fitted harmoniously in their environment. It was also proper that teachers should fit the temperament of the student into his surroundings.

Speaking of punishment for children, Dr. Anderson said that the old-fashioned "spanking" was no longer a last resort. Life itself was punishment enough, she added. She believed many persons had strange ideas about psychology.

Supposing that adults give more attention to the study of thinking, she remarked that living and thinking were very closely associated. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he," said Dr. Anderson, quoting the Bible.

Psychology problems after the war would be enormous, with fear of the world's greatest abnormality: Fear of insufficient social security made up the bulk of abnormal cases, she explained.

MUST ABOLISH WORRIES AND FEARS FROM LIFE

Worries and fears must be abolished if we desire a better and more sound community, Dr. Anderson said, and as a means of accomplishing this object, recommended that the individual must have a job, must be happy in his family life, and his self-esteem must be bolstered up.

Reporting on recent Canadian Youth Commission surveys, she said the majority of students were of the opinion that should be instructed in matters pertaining to marital problems and similar family studies.

Despite popular belief, the speaker stated, the German people had always suffered from an inferiority complex. They never had believed they were better than the Anglo-Saxons, but had been trying to convince themselves. Hitler and his group were typical examples, she concluded.

Proper eating and sufficient sleep were described as being the most important contributing factors to normalcy. A sense of humor was one of the greatest assets a person could have, she said.

Dr. Anderson was thanked for her educational address by Jack Fuller.

Man Fined $35 for Stealing Tea Here
Found guilty in city police court yesterday on a charge of stealing a pound of tea from the Hudson's Bay Company grocery store, a man was fined $35 or in default one month in prison.

The court noted that the offence had been committed two weeks ago, prior to the announcement of more severe penalties for shoplifters, therefore the penalty would not be so heavy as it might have been under different circumstances.

In passing sentence, Magistrate Hall said there was no doubt that the tea was taken from the counter.

Medical Heads Here Tuesday

Members of the British Columbia Medical Association and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of British Columbia will hold their annual convention at the Empress Hotel commencing Tuesday morning. Dismissed doctors and surgeons from all over Canada will attend the four-day party.

Dr. H. M. Milburn, Vancouver, is president of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and Dr. P. A. O. Coudland, Victoria, heads the British Columbia Medical Association.

The lengthy programme will include a series of technical addresses by leading doctors during morning and afternoon sessions. On Friday afternoon members will break away from lecture sessions to play golf at Oak Bay.

An exhibition of modern preparations and the latest instruments used in surgery will be held during the convention.

A special programme has been outlined for the visiting ladies, with registration Tuesday morning at the Empress Hotel, Mrs. P. A. Coudland will be general convener.

On Thursday night there will be a public meeting, sponsored by the British Columbia Medical Association, in the Metropolitan United Church, starting at 8:30 o'clock, the programme will include addresses by three distinguished doctors.

Topics of the addresses are: "The Medical Man's Position in the Coming National Contributory Health Insurance Scheme," by Dr. Harrie McPhedran, Toronto; "The Attack on the Cancer Problem," by Dr. William Magner, Toronto; and "The Newer Ideas in the Health Programme," by Dr. C. E. Dolman, University of British Columbia.

Scottish Wants Overseas Letters

An appeal for letters from Canadian Scottish men serving overseas was made yesterday by officials of the regiment, in order that incidents of value to regimental records may not be overlooked.

Officials expressed thanks for those letters already received for personal from next of kin and friends of members of the 1st Battalion, containing material of regimental interest.

In many cases these letters contain descriptions of battle scenes, humorous incidents and acts of bravery, coolness and initiative under fire, which are invaluable for historical purposes.

Experience has proved, it was pointed out, that if first-hand stories of experiences on the battlefield are not obtained now the chances of securing them in the future are remote.

Officials said that letters should be addressed to regimental headquarters, the Canadian Scottish Regiment, 201 Postoffice Building, Victoria.

Letters submitted from next of kin or friends of 1st Battalion soldiers overseas will be greatly appreciated and will be treated as confidential. They will be returned with copies of extracts made from them for approval or otherwise.

CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS

Results of the recent law examinations of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of British Columbia have just been announced. In the final examinations four candidates were successful, first place being attained by J. F. Lacey and second place by M. W. Angus. Other successful candidates were E. K. Jackson and M. E. Kennedy.

In the intermediate examinations, three candidates were successful, first place being attained by D. M. Walker, second by H. D. Selby-Hale, and third by G. D. Davies.

Mr. Murphy contended there was conflicting and incorrect evidence given at the trial by Crown witnesses, and that the same was not conclusive as being equally consistent with the innocence of the appellants.

He further argued the sentence was excessive, and that the magistrate had been influenced in imposing such a severe penalty by the fact the defendants had been previously convicted. The court reserved judgment.

Carew Martin, K.C., appeared for the Crown.

During the trial Magistrate Hall had the woman removed from the court for trying to make signs to the accused. He gave the constable strict orders for the woman to go to the witness room, and not remain at the door, listening to the evidence.

City Boosted in Radio Programme
Victoria has boosted the world over for its equitable climate and magnificent scenery. Over a recent English radio programme, a resident of Bournemouth stated that more than anywhere else in the world, he would like to live in Victoria.

James Walker, of this city, received this information in a letter from a friend of his who tuned in on the programme. He said:

"Have just been listening in to a session of the Brain Trust. The question asked was, 'If you retired with a $500 pension, what would you do and where would you choose to live?' Commander Campbell at once replied, 'Vancouver Island, without any doubt, with a cottage in Victoria. It has the finest all round climate in the world, moderate cost of living and all the shooting, fishing and hunting you could wish within 20 miles of the capital, and beautiful scenery everywhere.'"

Principles of Rotary Given

"If all men could understand Rotary, and use the four governing principles as their compass, surely the world would be a better place in which to live," declared William D. Shannon, governor District 101, Rotary International, at a luncheon yesterday at the Empress Hotel.

Paying his official visit here, Mr. Shannon described District 101 as the largest Rotary district in the world, with 95 clubs and 6,000 members. He drew attention to the two flags which, he said, exemplified 100 years of mutual respect between Canada and the United States.

Relating that Rotary had been founded in 1905 by Paul Harris, and had grown to 226,000 members in 5,200 clubs, Mr. Shannon dwelt on the motto, "Service Above Self." He referred to the four great principles of Rotary: development of acquaintance for service; and said greater attendance at meetings gave members more opportunities to know one another. Secondly he referred to the high ethical standard to be taken in business, giving Rotarians an opportunity to serve society. The Golden Rule provided the rule of ethics for employers, competitors and employees, and he said the highest culture was to speak no ill.

Third principle he propounded as an application of the ideal of service to personal business and personal life; shown in unselfish duty to the community, that people might reduce some of the debt they owed for living in "this great land."

Fourthly, Mr. Shannon spoke of the advancement of international understanding united in the ideal of service to develop world-mindedness. "Full attainment is found only in countries with liberty—liberty in thought, in work, and free from fear and want. Where this liberty does not exist, Rotary cannot," he declared.

He advised members to study for post-war days, "Rotary is not waiting for the day of victory. It is already making plans, and Rotary influence may spread all over the world," he asserted.

Delegates Named—Robert Noble and George Taggart will represent Victoria local of the Machinists, Fitters and Helpers' Union, and C. T. Anderson and Thomas Ray the Bolemakers and Iron Shipbuilders' Union at the annual convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor at Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, on October 16. These unions and other affiliates of Victoria Labor Council will send a number of resolutions to the convention.

Coal Production Shows Increase
British Columbia coal production in August climbed 17,630 tons over July and showed an increase of 17,167 tons over August of last year. The month's total was 168,971 tons, third highest monthly total for this year to date.

Vancouver Island, producing slightly less than one-third of the coal in the province, had a total in August of 54,924 tons. This was 82 tons less than in July and 9,493 tons less than August last year.

Increases were shown by Comox Colliery, No. 10 Mine, and Prospect Mine Extension, but Wellington Mine was down sharply. Among the smaller island producers, Cassidy, Chambers, Deer Home, Lewis, Louden, Stronach and Wellington No. 3 mines showed gains over July. Pacific production in August was the same as in July. Lake Road Mine was down.

Nicola-Princeton production at 6,536 tons increased 1,366 tons over July, but dropped 16,408 tons half of August of 1943.

East Kootenay accounted for the greater part of the province's increase, the production of 105,299 tons in that district being 15,683 tons more than in July; and 30,968 tons more than August last year. The new Elk River Colliery and the Corbin operations more than offset loss of production from Coal Creek and reduced output at Michel. Coal produced at Michel totalled 5,284 tons.

In the Peace River the upward climb continued, with August output totalling 3,996 tons, compared with 2,849 in July and 1,173 in August of last year.

Still Fortunate

No plans or hopes can be made for the immediate future with so much depending on the increase or decrease of sugar quotas.

With the country's stock still in serious short supply, no increase can be expected for quite some time.

But aren't we in Canada fortunate in having as much as we do?
